ELECTRONIC DEVICE AND ELECTRONIC DEVICE OPERATING CONTROL METHOD

Examiner: Scully S.N.: 10/539,778 Art Unit: 1795 June 2, 2008

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-8, drawn to an electronic device using a fuel cell as a power supply.

Group II, claim 9, drawn to an operating control method for an electronic device.

Group III, claims 10-13, drawn to an electronic device using a fuel cell as a power supply with oxidizing agent replenishment means.

Group IV, claim 14, drawn to an operating control method for an electronic device with oxidizing agent replenishment means.

Group V, claims 15-16, drawn to an electronic device using a fuel cell as a power supply with constant replenishment of air.

Group VI, claim 17, drawn to an operating control method for an electric device with constant replenishment of air.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature of the claims is an electronic device using a fuel cell as a power supply, comprising a voltage detection means for detecting the voltage generated by said fuel cell, a residual fuel amount detection means for detecting the residual amount of fuel in said fuel cell, an oxidizing agent concentration detection means for detecting the concentration of the oxidizing agent in said fuel cell and a judgment means for judging the state of said fuel cell on the basis of the detection results of said voltage detection means, said residual fuel amount detection means and said oxidizing agent concentration detection means. This is not inventive because JP2000-67896A discloses an electronic apparatus using fuel cells with a voltage detecting means as a power supply, the state of the fuel cells is determined based on the voltage detecting means and the state determined is indicated. Further, as disclosed by JP2002-20101A, 2002-373684A, JP2002-81331 and JP2001-273915A, a feature wherein a means of detecting the amount of remaining fuel is provided, and a feature wherein a means of detecting the concentration of an oxidizing agent, are both well-known technical matters.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
